Colin has trained and worked in a variety of community, hospital, and mental health settings with children and youth experiencing learning, behavioural, and social-emotional difficulties. Prior to arriving at Western, he worked in private practice and as a Psychologist and Coordinator of Psychological Services in the Thames Valley District School Board. As a parent to two young boys, he is always striving to follow the same recommendations he provides for other caregivers, but with a keen awareness that "knowing" and "doing" are often two different pathways.
