ABOUT THE PRESENTER

DR. PEG DAWSON

Peg Dawson, Ed.D., NCSP, received her doctorate in school/child clinical psychology from the University of Virginia. She worked as a school psychologist for 16 years in Maine and New Hampshire, and since 1992 has worked at the Center for Learning and Attention Disorders in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, where she specializes in the assessment of children and adults with learning and attention disorders. She has many years of organizational experience at the state, national, and international level, and served in many capacities, including president, of the New Hampshire Association of School Psychologists, the National Association of School Psychologists, and the International School Psychology Association. She is the author of numerous articles and book chapters on a variety of topics, including retention, ability grouping, reading disorders, attention disorders, the sleep problems of adolescents, the use of interviews in the assessment process, and homework. Along with her colleague, Dr. Richard Guare, she has written several books for parents and professionals on the topic of executive skills, including Smart but Scattered and Smart but Scattered Teens. Peg is the 2006 recipient of the National Association of School Psychologists' Lifetime Achievement Award.

“If you’ve ever wondered why your child struggles academically or behaviorally - despite having the “right stuff” to succeed - this book is essential reading. Drs Dawson and Gaure explain the importance of executive skills and provide science-based strategies that empower you to start helping your child today.”

- Sam Goldstein, PHD, Co-author of Raising Resilient Children -
